Oh no! I slept in.
I have to get ready.
Where is my hat?

Do you see my flag?
I need it for the parade.

Ah, there is my blue shirt! What else is blue in my closet?

I am off to the parade!

I will clean my room later.

How many socks and shoes do I have to pick up?

My friends are waiting for me.
We will go there together.

Hurry! Hurry!

We don't want to be late.

Look at all the kids in their costumes!

Can you find me among them?

Everyone is excited to go to the town square.

But not the cat!

What is it doing?

Time to get on the bus!

The bus is really crowded.

How many kids are going to the parade?

Can you spot all the flags?

What a celebration!

How many performers are there?

It is such a big crowd!

Can you spot me?

We march so neatly.

I love parades!

The Litara Foundation was established in 2014. It aims to improve the literacy skills of Indonesian children. The founders and activists of Litara consist of teachers, writers, illustrators, editors, translators, academics, practitioners, and education consultants. Litara's work includes developing and publishing quality books, training and assisting teachers and communities for literacy activities in schools and Community Reading Gardens, creating literacy and numeracy modules for teachers, training writers and illustrators, donating books, conducting research on children's literacy, and building partnerships or strategic collaborations.

KIBA (Kelas Ilustrasi dan Desain Buku Anak) under the DKV Study Program of FSRD ITB is a course aimed at facilitating knowledge, research, workshops, and collaborations to improve the quality of illustrations in children's books, particularly in Indonesia.
